

#LEAPFrench

In order to bring together every student following a French course at the University Language Centre, we have created the Twitter hashtag #LEAPFrench. Any tweet containing this hashtag will appear in the box below, and will be visible on every Blackboard site for LEAP French course and publicly on Twitter.

To get started

What is Twitter? How do I join? What is a hashtag?

How to get involved?

To start with, just look at the feed on the right-hand side – it will be a great way for you to:

- find out about news and events relating to French language in Manchester and at the ULC
- find reading suggestions in French – at all levels
- discover who else is studying French at the University Language Centre

Interested? Why not start tweeting?

Just compose a tweet and add the hashtag #LEAPFrench to it. Your tweets will appear in the feed on the right-hand side and will be visible to all. Use the hashtag to:

- share the things you've read or watched with the rest of the LEAP French community – ask for opinions, exchange ideas in French
- ask the community for language learning advice and tips – remember that people on #LEAPFrench are learning the language at all levels, from A1 to C2. There will always be someone who can help you, and someone you can help.
- sell your old books or buy someone else's old books.
- organise socials, find someone to go see a French film with.

Look out for tweets from the University Language Centre team @UoMLangCentre.

Please note

The Twitter hashtag should not replace traditional email communications for matters such as attendance, lateness, administrative queries, formal complaints and grievances. Please refer to the 'Essential information' page to find out who to contact.
